Elk Point Hospital

3 year accreditation

On July 19 and 20, Mary M. Hope B.Sc.N., M.P.A. and Dr. Robert I. Merritt M.D., C.M., F.R.C.S., representatives from the Canadian Council on Health Facilities Accreditation spent two days surveying the Elk Point Municipal Hospital.

In early October, the Directors of the Council stated that "It is with pleasure that we are able to advise that the Council has awarded an accreditation status for three years to your hospital."

The length of accreditation is determined by how well accreditation standards are met—three years accreditation is the highest award a hospital can receive. The Elk Point Hospital has met and, in many cases, exceeded the standards set by the Canadian Council on Health Facilities Accreditation. Just a few hospitals are granted this length of accreditation.

The following are some of the highlights of the Council report:

"The Board and Administration of the Elk Point Municipal Hospital provide a very efficient organization and have assembled a very competent administrative staff. The sound policies and procedures result in a safe and healthy hospital which is providing an excellent standard of medical care."

"The Board has an ambitious program of self education and has completed exercises in self evaluation."

"A comprehensive position description has been developed for the Chief Executive Officer and a performance appraisal is carried out at regular intervals. The Chief Executive Officer has effected good communication among the Medical, Nursing staffs, the Administration and the Board."

"The new Director of Nursing was appointed to her position in May. She is enthusiastic, an excellent listener and asked many good questions throughout the survey. Staff were well prepared for the survey. Continuing education is under the direction of the former Acting Director (of Nursing) who has made a strong contribution to the Hospital."

In summary, the Council states that:

"Elk Point Municipal Hospital continues to provide the major health programs to the community of Elk Point and surrounding district. The Administration, Medical Staff and Hospital staff were well prepared for the survey visit. The sincere interest and dedication of the Board was in evidence when all members attended the wrap up session."

The Board would like to thank the Administration and all the hospital staff for their continued efforts to provide the quality of care which is required to achieve these high standards.

A Hospital To Be Proud Of

New CS building committee established

The members of the Town of Elk Point's Community Services Building Committee passed on their mandate to a new, larger, community based committee last week, with Mayor Bruce Kleeberger congratulating the new group with the comment that he has "never seen a collection of this kind...of the kind of people who get things done."

He told the representatives of community organizations that the Town has taken the planning and execution of a much needed new community services building "as far as it can. There is no way that there are funds there for us to build a new building—the Town wouldn't be given that kind of support from the corporate sector and can't get the grants that you can."

The project started in the spring of 1988, Mayor Kleeberger said, when as a member of the Recreation Board, he pressed the Town to investigate the possibilities of replacing the present building, which although it is large enough to serve most needs, it "doesn't look or feel good" and has been shown by Provincial Public Works inspection to be "not a safe facility. If we don't do something, we're going to have it closed on us."

A committee was struck which drafted terms of reference and "got the facts." The Rec Board proceeded with a $7800 facility study which was completed late in 1989. Council was prepared to accept the findings of the study, but changes came to Council via an election and by-election and plans for a new facility were deferred.

Two committees, both chaired by Councillor Louis Verhagen, were formed, at periods since that time, and both came up with the finding that a new facility was needed. These committees resulted in an action plan, an idea of what a new building will cost, an idea of where it will be situated, and a list of potential sources of funding. "It has taken two years to get to this point,"

Mayor Kleeberger said. "Politics is a long, slow process."

He told the new committee that the next step is to get engineering drawings, and possibly a model, underway, so the committee has "something you can see" to show potential donors to the project.

The Town is prepared to provide financing for the drawings and model, but that is where funding from municipal sources will come to a halt. "We have no funds in the budget for this and we don't intend to tax people to pay for it." However, the Mayor pointed out, "funding comes to volunteer groups that would never come to the Town." The Town will also support operation of a new building through Community Services, he added.

Mayor Kleeberger was asked if the Town had looked at renovating the present building, and to the group the results of the Public Works study had shown that building is "a fire hazard, with insulation and the roof falling in even half as much (as the cost of a new building) wouldn't do it."

The present structure was built in 1952, and had the north wall replaced and the roof fixed about 10 years ago when it was still being used as a school. However, the building has continued to deteriorate to the point where "operating costs are right through the rotten roof," Councillor Verhagen said.

No representative from the Senior Citizens was present at the meeting, and the new committee is not aware at this time if that group is still considering being a part of the project, which at one point they said they would consider if the present site is utilized. The site is the next bureaucratic hurdle, with the location of the existing CSC considered the best possible place for its replacement, if the land can be obtained from the County. A trade of the site for a parcel north of the arena was the focus of earlier

Word has been received from Alberta Transportation and Utilities that Al "Boomer" Adair has been awarded a contract for remaining 12.3 km of Secondary Highway 881, from Stoney Lake to Highway 881, has been awarded to Gilfoil Holdings Inc. Mr. Adair said the project will involve base paving of this road, and is part of the Government's program to complete secondary highways by the year 2000. The work will be administered by the County of St. Paul, with funding from Alberta Transportation and Utilities. The tender call attracted 10 bids.

President says

Chamber slump temporary

The present slump in attendance which has caused two of the past four meetings of Elk Point Chamber of Commerce to be cancelled due to lack of a quorum is "only temporary," Chamber President Millie Orr feels. "They'll all be here as soon as we start planning a Christmas promotion."

Mrs. Orr hopes to get planning underway for that event as soon as the next Chamber meeting, on November 7, and thinks that this might be the year to have the annual event early in December, "when people haven't done their shopping already," to maximize its effects for the merchants. She also thinks a change in format to a full Saturday, with activities as well as shopping specials, may be in order. "That was suggested last year, and I think it might work well."

The days immediately before Christmas are jam-packed with activities, the President noted, "and when the college kids come home, likely as not they want to be having fun with their friends, not shopping til midnight." Attendance at last year's Christmas Extravaganza was far smaller than in previous years, possibly due to heavy snowfall which clogged roads and forced cancellation of some of the entertainment.

The lack of a meeting last week, just before Small Business Week, was disappointing for Mrs. Orr, who was hoping to pass on her comments on Health Care Connection '90, which she had attended two weeks earlier, and which she felt was "really worthwhile. We met so many people, and many of them were wanting to come to small towns." She sees this as a welcome trend away from the reaction encountered in previous years, when graduating health care professionals wanted to stay in the city.

Health Care connection '90 "really worthwhile"

"They're finding they can't get the jobs they want there—they are working at all hours in clinics just to have a job." The Elk Point booth, decked in fall colors, was much admired, and very noticeable, and Mrs. Orr feels the extra effort was well worth doing. "We attracted a lot of attention, and I think we contacted some good prospects."

Mrs. Orr had also wanted to pass on Small Business Week greetings to the members, and to tell them of the vital role their businesses play in the community. "I know that noon hour is a busy time for some of them, but I'd really like to see them all make an effort to come to Chamber when they can. That way we could really get rolling, get some projects going, and get everybody's input on what they would like the Chamber to do. We can't do it if they don't tell us what they would like to see—guest speakers, or courses in business development, or whatever."

Small business week announced

The Honourable Peter Elzinga, Minister of Economic Development and Trade, declared October 21 - 28, 1990, Small Business Week for the Province of Alberta, and announced the release of a series of "Alberta Business Profiles".

"By declaring this Week, the Province is recognizing the vital role small business plays in the provincial economy. 97 percent of businesses in Alberta are classified as small businesses. These firms are creating jobs, inventing new products and services and diversifying our economy. Alberta's small businesses are benefitting all Albertans," stated Minister Elzinga.

From 1978 to 1988, small businesses; firms with less than 20 employees; were responsible for over 70 percent of the net increase in employment in the province, resulting in approximately 189,500 new jobs in Alberta over this ten year period. The Economic Council of Canada estimates that small businesses account for up to 80 percent of all of the innovations made by the business community.

"Albertans are starting new small businesses all the time. To get an idea of this new business activity, we can look at the number of new business incorporations; currently Alberta averages over 1400 per month. One of the trends that we're seeing is that more and more of these small businesses are owned by women," said Minister Elzinga.

The number of Alberta women business owners increased by over 26 percent from 1981 to 1986 compared to a 1 percent increase in the number of male business owners.

"Small business makes Alberta's economy stronger and more stable. It broadens the base of the economy so the province is not totally dependent on the futures of one or two commodities," explained Minister Elzinga.

Small Business Week is celebrated every year in October. During this week-long campaign, small businesses are encouraged to improve their operations through the services and valuable contacts available through the sponsoring organizations: the Province, federal government agencies, local chambers of commerce and other business associations.

The goals of the campaign include informing Albertans of the "paths and the pitfalls" in establishing their own small business, pinpointing problem areas for small business owners, and improving their knowledge in overcoming those problems.

"The Government actively supports the initiatives of our small business community and this includes supplying Alberta entrepreneurs with the information they need to succeed. This year for Small Business Week, it gives me great pleasure to announce that the "Alberta Business Profiles" are now available to the small business community," the Minister said.

"Alberta Business Profiles" are now available on 25 types of businesses in Alberta, from Autobody Shops and Clothing Manufacturers to Import Businesses and Pet Stores. Each Profile lists vital information on that specific type of business such as market size, industry trends, operating ratios, average industry sales figures, market forecasts, buying patterns, industry associations, relevant trade shows, etc.

"Whether someone is already operating a business or would like to explore opportunities in a certain area, these Profiles are an important reference which will help entrepreneurs make informed business decisions. We are releasing this first set of Profiles now and should have over 50 available by the Spring of 1991," the Minister explained.

For Small Business Week, local chambers and other business associations are sponsoring local events such as: luncheons, dinners, seminars, workshops, information fairs, and trade fairs.

For more information on Small Business Week activities, contact your local Chamber of Commerce. For more information on "Alberta Business Profiles", call The Business Line at 1-800-272-9675, in Edmonton call 422-9494.

Council reorganizes for '90-'91

Mandryk new Deputy Mayor

Elk Point Town Council held their annual Organizational Meeting Monday night, with Councillor Adele Mandryk elected as Deputy Mayor for the coming six months, and each member of Council appointed to a full slate of committees for the coming year.

Council agreed to revert to holding meetings on the second and fourth Mondays of each month, thus saving two meetings and 8 percent in regular meeting fees. This was done for many years in the past, until heavy loads on Council agenda led to meetings every second Monday. The new schedule will take effect in November, with the October 29 meeting declared still necessary to catch up on business. Three meetings were moved, due to Monday holidays. The meeting scheduled for November 12 falls on the statutory Remembrance Day holiday, and will be moved to Tuesday, November 13, while the meeting which would have fallen on Christmas Eve, December 24, was moved forward to Wednesday, December 19. No further conflicts from holidays occur until October of 1991, when Thanksgiving Day, October 14, will see the meeting moved to Tuesday, October 15.

Commencement time of meetings will remain at 7:00 p.m., and honorariums and travel and expense claim rates will also stay the same, with the travel rates to be reviewed before the end of 1990, due to escalating fuel costs.

Committee memberships were then established as follows (chairpersons in bold type):

discussions, and may be considered again.

The new committee then took over the meeting, with Marshall Kachmar of the Elk Point and District Lions Club elected as Chairman, Stephen Montgomery of the Community Services Board as secretary, and Mark Wilson of the Chamber of Commerce as treasurer. Other members of the committee include Betty Anne Alexander of the Lioness Club, Dave Yake of the BPOE, Barry Kutryk of the Ukrainian Dance Club, John Zenko of the County of St. Paul, and Louis Verhagen of the Town of Elk Point. Pioneer Circle representative Paul Stepa and Masonic Lodge representative Mike Glover were not present at the meeting.

The first step to be taken by the new group will be to become a society, with rules and regulations drafted accordingly, and a budget formulated. A package of information and background data was given to each member and will be studied preparatory to getting going on the actual planning of the building. The group may also tour some facilities of this type in other communities to get ideas as to what they do and do not wish to see incorporated.

"We're going to have fun doing this," said new Chairman Marshall Kachmar. "We may not meet the deadline, but this building can be a reality. We should have good corporate response, if we sell it right."

Mayor Kleeberger agreed that "this thing is ready to happen. Council can't do it, but your Society can. You each represent a specific group...and have the credibility and credentials, and the responsibility to the community. I want you to have the work and the glory."

In Our View

Small Business

Lifeblood of our community

Wherever you are going today, whatever you're doing, chances are that you will visit one or more of the small businesses that Elk Point has to offer. If you stop for coffee, fill your car with gas, buy a loaf of bread, rent a video, pick up your dry cleaning, purchase some light bulbs, check out your lottery tickets, you will be dealing with a small business. If you come to put in a classified ad, or go next door to find out the price of a plane ticket, or go across the street to wash your car, a small business owner or employee will be waiting to serve your needs.

We who are fortunate enough to live here tend to take these factors for granted--and get a shock if we happen to find ourselves in a city store where the clerks really don't give a hoot if the shoe fits, or if the dress is an ugly color, or they are all out of the toy we are searching for. And why should they care? They probably will never see us again, and there will be another customer along in a minute anyhow.

Yes, we do have some businesses in our town and area which qualify as big businesses--the oil companies, the Salt Plant--and their contribution to the community in terms of tax dollars, job opportunities, and corporate involvement in the community is very welcome. Without them, the small businesses would have far less customers to serve, and much less revenue to punch through their cash registers--and we would be without a number of fine citizens who contribute to Elk Point in many ways.

The Co-Op is actually a big business, having more than a hundred employees overall, between St. Paul and Elk Point, but it seems more like a small business, taking pride in personalized good service and in carrying a full line of merchandise.

Those characteristics, good service and fulfilling the needs of local customers, are common

Here, it's different. The person you buy your toothpaste from will probably sit next to you at bingo, and the fellow who changes your tires may come into your business to buy something tomorrow. They give you good service, and get friendly conversation and good service in return.

Soon it will be time to think about Christmas (don't look now, but the big day is only two months away). Let's all extend our Small Business Week goodwill into the festive season, and shop at home, where those who serve you really care what you want, and will do their best to fulfill your wishes.

Thanks to all the business people for another year of good service. Keep up the good work!

Alberta Trails

May I, like they, have my say?

By Irene Magnusson

When I was raising my children, there were times when they flew into a tantrum, kicking and screaming and breaking things, asking for things they couldn't have. There were several ways to deal with these minor fits: One was to ignore them - but that subjected the rest of the family to an awful uproar, and sometimes to broken objects, toys, etc., which we could ill afford. Another cope hope was to send the screamer to his/her room, not to emerge until the storm had passed - the problem here was I didn't have enough rooms for them all, for some years only one room between us, so short of pushing them out the door, other methods had to be found.

I was allowed, in those long-ago days, to use a hairbrush or switch, and tan their little bottoms, when they became too obstreperous-which I did; but today such curbing tactics would be considered brutality. No one mentions the brutality of the uproar, as administered to the long-suffering parent. On occasion, one could talk them out of their noisy fit.

I see the disgraceful uproar in the Senate, in the past few days (weeks?) much as the tantrums of children, balked at getting their own way, or enough attention to suit them, and who resort to having temper fits. Who is the mother who will 'straighten' them out? And which, I wonder, of the few curbs left to Canada, will suffice?

Patently, we (Canada) cannot lock them in their rooms; nor can we deprive them of their candy (that is locked in). Taking a 'hairbrush' (whatever that might be) does not seem very dignified; and think of all the squeals of "brutality" that would bring out!!! Our collective voices do not seem to be loud enough nor carrying enough to reach them, and expose them to the sweet voice of reason.

I don't believe there is any use just laughing at them, since they would doubtless believe the laughter was applause, and go at their show-offing even harder.

So I am forced to conclude that the best way to cope with the tantrums of the Senators, is to ignore them. Some radio, television and newspapers are determined to give them the publicity they do not deserve. I have my buttons, to shut off the electronic machines, and lots of room in my paper salvage bin for the printed coverage.

The inconceivable fact of non-elected persons, figureheads merely, trying to disrupt the legal and necessary governing of our country, by duly elected members of government, is ludicrous. While not quite as lawless and criminal as a thug with a gun holding up a policeman in his or her duty, it has the same effect: namely, interference with the due process of law enforcement.

As for this GST law they are so desperately stalling, who will be the ones most disturbed by it? The rich, of course, since they are the ones who buy the most goods and services-and who can be richer than an over-paid senator? I believe the same reasoning applies to the so-called "claw back" law, also languishing on the table in the Senate, whereby those seniors rich enough to have more than $50,000 taxable income, will have their Old Age Allowance taxed back. My 'say' to that is, of course, in Heaven's name, why not? I even think any parent, with income in that bracket, could very likely scrape by in support of their kids, without the tidbit of Family Allowance added, although I will be first to say that those in lower income areas certainly do need it.

Which brings us back to the whole business of the GST. Why is it there, being ranted over, this Goods and Service Tax Bill? Simply because the government needs more money, the better to look after us with. Look at your statement, received annually (I think) from the Health Dept., which tells you how much money has been spent on you by the Health Care Program. At least, I used to get one, when I went to doctors and such. On top of that, hospitals, drugs, and all the other fantastically expensive medical treatments we think we need-and often DO not.

That money has to come from somewhere. And, no, it is not government money: it is OUR money, paid in the form of taxes. So, doubt it or not, there has to be taxes.

And we, the people, have to pay them.

If the GST is defeated, or removed, there will only be a mad scramble to install another tax, as fast as possible; and it will have to be more encompassing than the GST, to allow for paying for all this hassle we've already gone through to get the GST bill in shape and as far along as it has gone.

And, this will be true, no matter WHICH political party is trying to run the country. Everytime I hear the Reform party blasting off about how everything others do is "WRONG" I listen for awhile, to see if they can offer a way to do everything "RIGHT". So far, I haven't heard it. The same goes for the other parties not in a leading position.

When the ball is in your corner, and you are "IT" the strategy is always a lot different than when you are just trying to interfere with the other team.

I remember, when I was a kid at home, all the fuss my parents made about a certain political party that was going to "save the world" with a lot of great new ideas. It was called Social Credit. I went to my big dictionary, to look up the date of this phenomena. There is not a word on it.

However, I did find it in my Canadian Encyclopedia. There is a nine-inch column report on the Socreds. How it rose, gained much support of the gullible, caught on here and there, but never nationally, and withered and died away after awhile, having dropped its 'radical' ideas and plans, and became just another 'conservative' type government.

I predict about the same fate for the Reform Party, since, to survive, one has to be FOR something, as well as always AGAINST everything anyone else is doing. It's easy to row downstream, much harder to buck a swift current, and make headway upstream.

I laugh at all these polls, which predict the demise of the P.C.s, a lot of wishful thinking. They'll be around: and I have admiration for our Prime Minister, who is doing as good a job as he can, under constant criticism from those who can complain about what they see as wrong, but seldom can offer 'righter' solutions.

Heinsburg Junior & Senior High School awards

By Jonathan Midgley
Staff Writer

Heinsburg School held its annual awards on the weekend officially ending school business from the '89 - '90 school year and making way for a new batch of winners this year.

There were several students who had a big night taking more than one award but, according to Heather Bishop (Language Arts teacher at Heinsburg), the focus at these awards was to spread the recognition around.

"We like to encourage as many students as we can. That's why we have the Most Improved awards this year."

The most improved awards went to students who did not necessarily finish first, but who showed marked improvement over the school year.

In special awards the name Henry Thomson received frequent mention. Thomson was Valedictorian (Winning a year's subscription to Readers Digest) and received proficiency awards in Computer Processing and Typing 30. In the Academic category he took the award for top marks in Math 30, Social 30, Chemistry 30, and Biology 20.

On top of all that Thomson took The Governor General's Award for having the highest academic standing in the graduating class, and received a Rutherford Scholarship, as did Jenifer Daniels and Kari Barstad.

Rutherford Scholarships go to students with an average of 80 per cent in at least one High School year and who plan to attend a post-secondary institution. Students who keep an 80 per cent average over three years are eligible for $1,500.

Winner of the Citizenship Award this time was student council president Kari Barstad. The Citizenship winner is chosen by a committee of staff and community members. It honors a student who demonstrates leadership in the school and the community.

Winner of the Kuziw Memorial Award for outstanding athletic ability was an absent Jenifer Daniels.

"We're quite proud of Jenifer," said Bishop.

"She is the only first year student on the University of Lethbridge Women's Volleyball team."

Mrs. Lena Kuziw was on hand to give the award to Jenifer's mother.

"He wanted young people to get involved with sports," said Kuziw of her son Steve, for whom the award is named. Steve Kuziw died of cancer after being actively involved with sports in the community.

Playground update

By Darlene Kozicky
Playground Committee

Our Tupperware Fundraiser is now complete, thanks to the hard work of Diane Fraess, coordinator, and Monica Buksa, Tupperware representative, we are $900 closer to our goal. A superb response from the school and community toward this campaign saw people buying Tupperware or giving cash donations in lieu of buying Tupperware. Thanks from the Playground Committee to everyone who participated. Clinton Maksymec put in the largest order, totalling $634.60.

We are canvassing local businesses and organizations by letter at the present time for financial support or donated labor for the playground. A special thank you to Gloria Berg, secretary for the committee, for her volunteer time used in drafting, typing, posting and hand delivering the letters! Donations or inquiries may be directed to Darlene Kozicky, Box 285, Elk Point, Phone 724-2080. We held our Garage Sale last Friday and Saturday in the school gymnasium and with all the generous donations to the sale and our raffle, we made an exciting profit of $765. The money tree (blooming with 10 Loonies) was won by Michelle Hutton, and three overflowing grocery hampers were won by Billie Milholland, Betty Roscoe and Faye Sommerville. The students had a good time shopping at the sale on Friday afternoon. The sale was busy Saturday morning, but slowed down Saturday afternoon. Thank you to Idella Matthews, coordinator of the Garage Sale, for all the volunteer hours spent organizing the sale. A great big THANK YOU for all the donated items, for the excellent support of our sale, and for working at it.

The Playground Fund is growing weekly!

Pie bingo this week

Contrary to last week's story, it is not too late to enjoy the Pioneer Circle Pie Bingo. The story indicated that the event was scheduled for October 23, when in fact it is to take place OCTOBER 28. Our apologies for this error, and we hope you all enjoy the Pie Bingo.

Historical Society on the go

By Irene Magnusson

The Library meeting room was once again the site, as the Elk Point and District Historical Society members convened to lay plans for coming days.

Following the minutes, the group considered the possibility of creating a new float, to use in future parades, as the old one is just that - old. Some thought went toward a two-wheeled type, but no definite decision was reached. Further consultation is required.

A motion to adjust the By-Laws was carried, to bring them up to date with present needs. Finances were reported, by Treasurer Ray Hellquist, and motion to pay bills agreed to. Information Night went well, and a motion to order another shipment of pins (2 designs) was passed. Mike O'Neill is the designer, and he presently has a project in mind of creating a logo to commemorate the Bicentennial celebrations coming up in 1992, of the advent of the fur trading companies to the Elk Point area.

The dedication of the Mural and surrounding park is up-coming, but more details need to be worked out. Announcements will be made. Vicki Brooker is in charge of the Mural Brochure, and has it well in hand.

A quantity of historical and semi-historical papers was donated to the Society, from the effects of Bea Sumpton. These require sorting and a resting place found for them.

Vicki Brooker reported on work being undertaken by the Bicentennial Subcommittee; interesting ideas have been forthcoming; invitations to participate to be sent to other towns and historical groups; RCMP will be involved; also other plans are forming. The sub-committee has been appointed to do Public Relations.

There is hope of giving recognition to early explorer, Peter Fiddler (1769:1822), who was instrumental in getting the northern part of (now) prairie provinces mapped; in particular, Lk. Athabasca, Great Slave Lk., foothills of the Rockies, northern Manitoba and the Assinaboine River. He also worked and explored at York Factory, the S. Saskatchewan River, Beaver River, and much more. It is thought he may have been in the local area, at one time. As a surveyor, Fiddler laid out lots for the Red River Colony. There is much yet to learn of our Canadian past.

It was also noted that, in the Bicentennial year of the fur traders, the Alaska Highway, which slices up through our northern reaches, will be marking its 50th anniversary.

A suggestion was made to look into the possibility of getting another printing of Supplement to Reflections, a History of Elk Point and District.

Mike O'Neill has exchanged old photos with Ft. Simpson, former abode of the late Rev. Harry Day, and Mrs. Day.

Secretary Gail Kozicky has taken a course on 'archives' and suggested purchase of a "How To" book, filled with useful information on cataloguing and documentation. This was agreed to. Mike O'Neill requested ideas for future pins.

Adjournment followed agreement to meet next on November 29, a 6:30 p.m. supper meeting at the Empress. This will be the Annual Meeting and all members are invited to attend.

Students take on TSE

A lot of new terminology is floating around the hallways at F. G. Miller High School these days. Students are talking about margins, options, and selling long or short, right along with their conversations about sporting events and weekend fun.

When they grab the daily newspaper, some of these young people are turning right past the comics to would you believe—the Stock Market Reports.

What has brought about this amazing transformation from lighthearted teens to budding businesspersons is a new Stock Market Simulation Game which the students are playing as part of their computer class. Teacher Lawrence Pidluzny says interest in the game has been growing by leaps and bounds ever since play started earlier this fall.

The computer program is programmed to simulate actual stock market trends, and has had actual news events and the reaction the markets would have to them, programmed in. Four classes of stocks,

Interest in Stockmarket game growing by leaps and bounds including aerospace, oil and gas, automobiles and mines, are involved. They have 91 'weekly sets' of statistics to work through, but can carry on at their own pace. Elk Point students have done approximately 40 'weeks' since starting the class.

Students across Canada are taking part in the program, which is based at Sir Wilfred Laurier University. Phase 2, which runs simultaneously, has the students, in teams, given $100,000 in imaginary funds to invest for 12 weeks, using actual information from newspaper stock market reports to make their decisions on buying, selling and trading stocks. As the students play the game, they make projections and develop charts of trends, which Pidluzny says makes the game "a training ground for real competition."

Every Wednesday, a portfolio report is received from Sir Wilfred Laurier indicating how the Elk Point teams place nationwide. At the end of the twelve weeks, the top Alberta team will win a cash prize, while the top team overall will win a trip to see the Toronto Stock Exchange in action. The national leader at the present time has added up a sum of $296,000, while the regional leader as of last Wednesday's report filed a total of $99,905. Elk Point's teams are not far off this pace, and if the net worth of close to $227,000 reported by Darcy McLaughlin and Terry Jendruck last Thursday is verified, they could move quite a way into the regional lead, as well as winning the class prize of a pizza for their efforts.

Stay tuned, and we will attempt to keep you posted as Elk Point's young financial wizards try their hardest to become 'millionaires,' even if only on computer.

Student wins Masonic bursary

Shelley Bespalko, a 1990 graduate of F. G. Miller High School who is now attending Lakeland College, is among 69 winners of Masonic Higher Education Fund Bursaries in Alberta. Miss Bespalko received her $1000 award from Dave Pynten of the St. George's Lodge, AF and AM.

October is "Masonic Higher Education Bursary Month," and lodges have been urged to promote this source of educational funding to the best of their ability. The bursaries go to high school graduates on the basis of their academic progress and their need for financial assistance to further their education. The bursaries were initiated in 1958, and originally were intended for members of Masonic families, but have since been expanded, with member families no longer given preference. Charity is one of the principles of the lodge, and by giving bursaries, the members feel they are contributing in a meaningful way to the future success of the young people of their communities.

The success rate of the students who have been assisted by Masonic bursaries is excellent, and the members of St. George's Lodge are sure that Miss Bespalko will be equally successful in her educational endeavors. Congratulations!

Lioness

Environment tip

The Elk Point Lioness Club would like to thank Town Council for their decision to temporarily help us, by providing transportation to Two Hills for recyclable paper, to continue fulfilling our responsibility as citizens by recycling.

Recycling Fact:

Of all the paper used on this planet, only 25 percent of it is recycled. William Chandler in the Futurist (1984) claimed that if we all recycled just half of the paper we use we could meet approximately 75 percent of all new paper demand, and by doing this, we could save 20 million acres of forest which would otherwise be used for paper production. Unfortunately, our available markets for recycling waste paper are limited, so at the present time the above statement is unrealistic, but let's try for it!

What can you do to improve this situation? You can drop off your used paper at more than 100 paper collection projects operating throughout Alberta. These projects collect newspaper, office paper, cardboard and mixed papers which are recycled into insulation, building materials, animal bedding, hydroseeding mulch, paperboard and other paper products.

You can also "buy recycled." Recycled paper products are of very high quality and are available throughout the province, so complete the recycling loop by buying these products whenever possible.

What's news at the library?

The staff at the library would like to mention to our members and non-members what a great service the library is and all the services we can offer you. We have a wide variety of books, but sometimes you can't find a special book. We would be pleased to help you find that book through Inter Library Loan Service. For that important paper to be done up, we offer free of charge, on-site use of a typewriter. If you need information or are doing research for a report, make use of the reference area and vertical file. The program room is available free of charge to non-profit organizations, just give us a call and make arrangements for your meetings. Did you know we offer a sewing pattern, comic books and coupon exchange? In the video section you will find educational, classics and How-To's. Take home a talking book or a music cassette and sit back for a relaxing moment. There is also a selection of talking books for qualified visually impaired patrons through Alberta Culture. We have a fine collection of Large Print books for easier reading. With over 50 magazine subscriptions you can find something for your enjoyment. We carry a collection of Ukrainian books. In the Consumer Corner there are books to help you as a consumer and free pamphlets to take home. If you have to write an exam there is supervision for Athabasca University and Alberta Correspondence School exams. To free mother's or dad's hands to look for that favorite book, a playpen is available for the little one. For the preschoolers, a storytime is on Friday morning at 10:30 a.m. Come and join us in the well lit and comfortable surroundings of the Elk Point Public Library where the friendly staff and the many volunteers are ready to help you find that book and information you are looking for.

A reminder to parents of the upcoming Halloween preschool storytime party on Friday October 26 at 10:30 a.m. Don't forget to dress-up, we want to see ghosts, witches and pumpkin people invade the library. Since it's just a week away from Halloween, we have some costume books for you to look at to make that unusual costume.

NEW BOOKS: "Not My Child" by Patricia Crowley, she thought it only happened in faraway places, to other people's children. Not to her child. But what Patricia Crowley discovered is that sexual abuse can happen in any family, in any neighborhood. And it happened to her daughter.

"King of the Night" by Laurence Leamer. The life story of Johnny Carson.

In the music cassettes collection there are six new music cassettes: The original soundtrack of "Pretty Woman"; "Let's Get It Started" by M.C. Hammer; "Wilson Phillips" by Wilson Phillips; "I Do Not Want What I Haven't Got" by Sinead O'Connor; "Pump" by Aerosmith and "24/7" by Dino.

Don't get caught in the dark this Halloween

Neither kids nor drivers should get caught in the dark on Halloween. The Alberta Motor Association offers these suggestions for parents, children and motorists to ensure a safe, fun-filled evening.

Costumes should use retro-reflective material, available at most hardware or auto supply stores, to increase visibility. A hand-held flashlight also helps youngsters see - and be seen!

Children should be able to see clearly in all directions. Face make-up and a properly worn hat or wig will not obstruct vision. If a mask cannot be avoided, enlarge the eyeholes for better visibility.

Adults or older children should accompany younger children on their trick-or-treat rounds to keep track of homes visited, treats received from unfamiliar houses, and to make certain that youngsters don't wander from the immediate neighborhood.

For motorists, headlights should be turned on as soon as it is dusk. Limit driving speeds to 30 km/hr. or less in residential areas, and be on the lookout for children darting out from between parked vehicles. Remember to come to a complete stop when making a right turn on red. Be especially careful in driveways.

Adequate preparation can help eliminate possible dangers, so everyone can have a horribly good time this year!

Safe trick or treating Elk Point RCMP want to make sure that all the little ghosts and goblins will have a safe journey on their appointed rounds this Halloween. They have ordered a supply of reflective armbands, and hope all the trick-and-treaters will make the RCMP Detachment their first stop, so they can wear these bands to make motorists more aware of their presence as dusk approaches. Have a safe and happy Halloween, everyone!

A-1 Cable?

Dear Editor:

I wish to comment on the method used by A-1 Cable Systems to sell subscribers additional channels by requiring them to complete and return a form stating that they do not want the new services.

If you do not write A-1 Cable, stating that you do not wish the additional channels, you will be billed an extra three dollars a month.

I should point out that no return address appeared on the form or was a prepaid stamped envelope included.

I do not like this method of selling additional services. It is sneaky and underhanded. I will not purchase the additional channels as a protest over this sales method.

I am also not pleased with the reception quality of some existing channels in recent weeks and would be happy if we received more from the existing channels.

For those of you, who do not want the additional channels, A-1 Cable Systems address is:

Aerobics

Community Services has received a request to offer a no bounce or low impact Aerobics class this winter. The class would be offered during the day and would be suitable for anyone, whether they have done aerobics before or not. We have not decided on which day, that would be decided by the preferences expressed by the participants. If anyone is interested in participating in this activity please phone Community Services at 724-3800.

Attention Veterans

Community Services has been contacted by Veterans Affairs to assist them with a project. Apparently, many veterans of World Wars 1 and 2, Korea and peace time members of the Forces and their Widows are not receiving all of the financial benefits that they are entitled to. Letter to the Editor

Segregated French School

To The Editor:

The board of the St. Paul Public School District #2228, despite adamant opposition from a vast majority of the Francophone population and almost 100 percent of electors not defined under Section 23 of the Charter of Rights and Freedoms, has taken a decision to open a segregated school for a few students at the expense of all taxpayers "no matter what the cost." The Minister of Education did not order a school to open but did agree with the board's decision. This distinct French school is now operating in what used to be the New Hope School in St. Paul offering classes from grade one to six. Already we hear muttering that the next step is to request classes from grades one to twelve irrespective of cost because they are exercising their "rights" under the Charter. Experience has taught us that S.P.E.F. (La Societe de parents pour l'education francophone) and supporters have demands that never cease. For example: The County of St. Paul, in an effort to meet the demands of a few families who wanted their children educated exclusively in French, have since 1983, been paying tuition and board for them to attend the College Mathieu in Gravelbourg Saskatchewan.

Not satisfied, this same group of parents is currently suing the county for tens of thousands of dollars retroactively to cover "additional costs". They are demanding, for example, student and parent travel back and forth, telephone calls, uniforms and replacement costs for chores that the student supposedly would have been doing at home at a rate of 3 hours per day at a cost of $ 6.00 per hour. This, they say is a "reasonable demand". Our question is: where will it end?

Because Alberta Education has not allocated new funds for this project, there will only be a transfer of funds within the Department to cover only part of the high per pupil costs of a segregated delivery system. The net deficit costs, whatever they may be, will have to be picked up by local taxpayer dollars. This simply means that the education dollar, at provincial or local levels, will have to be spread much thinner with a disproportionate per pupil amount going toward a small distinct group who in their words do not wish to be "contaminated" by us. The net result will be high local tax assessments with a fiscal squeeze on existing educational programs for our children.

The St. Paul Public School District #2228 has often stated publicly that running a triple track education program side by side is very complex and costly. We couldn't agree more! However, now they are making statements that the distinct French program will not increase costs appreciably! Who are they referring to? Themselves or the taxpayers of the County of St. Paul?

Those of us in the surrounding County system have no choices. Whether we live in Heinsburg, Elk Point or Ashmont, we will pay our education tax to cover tuition fees for the new exclusive French segregated school whether we like it or not. This is why, as county rate payers we must be very insistent that our Board representatives ensure that any grants or financial support given to the support of distinct privileges not exceed local per pupil revenues throughout the county. Otherwise our children's education will suffer. Last year the county board experienced a deficit which resulted in cutbacks in teaching staff (10 percent) and a significant increase in our taxes. Despite these measures the County is forecasting an even greater deficit for the next school year. And this is without the additional costs involved with the distinct French School now operating. We need to let our local and provincial politicians know our concerns by phoning or writing to them directly and immediately. The F.G. Miller Parent/Teacher Association is forwarding a letter to the Minister of Education. Your letters should be directed likewise. You may also use the government rite number 645-6212 at no cost.

and I was shocked at the number of churches there. I think there was about nine! I think they all kind of believed the same thing. If there is one God, why does there have to be so many churches? Wouldn't it be better if they all joined together?

Dear Friend: I think that you have asked a question that many would ask. First of all, there are a number of Christian churches that all believe essentially the same things, but differ on less important issues. The Bible defines a Christian church as the church where JESUS CHRIST IS THE HEAD (Ephesians 1:22); and where the FOUNDATIONAL teaching is that of JESUS CHRIST (1 Corinthians 3:11).

Of course there is much more, but in essence, these churches all have a similar view of the Triune God, Salvation and the Bible as the Word of God, without error.

Where these churches differ on less essential matters, it provides a wonderful variety that tends to meet the various needs of people. This is best expressed in the Bible itself! This wonderful Book was inspired by one God, yet He used nearly 40 men, over a span of about 1600 years!

The Bible never contradicts itself, yet it reveals a wonderful diversity in its unity.

This perhaps is God's intent for His church here on earth...to be wonderfully diverse, yet maintain that unity within essential Truth. In allowing this, we can all find a church that meets our particular idiosyncrasies; yet not compromise the Truth revealed in the Bible, GOD'S WORD!

So, I believe, that at present God wants UNITY, but not necessarily UNIFORMITY.

The Bible does speak of a time when we who are spiritually related to God will all be "uniform"! In the first letter of John, he writes, "WHEN HE APPEARS, WE SHALL BE LIKE HIM".

STARSCOPE

By Eileen Norby

The Sun is in Scorpio from October 23 to November 22, though it can slightly vary from year to year. In many parts of the northern hemisphere, it's the time of hibernating: the trees lose their leaves, animals crawl into their burrows for the winter, birds depart for warmer regions. The Sign of Scorpio is associated with transformation. People who have Scorpio as their birth Sign usually experience lives filled with dramatic, even traumatic changes, and encounter situations which transform them in some way. It seems that old parts of you are continually dying and new parts are being born, so that your life is never static. You also have the ability to strongly affect others, even to change their lives, and you see your "role" as the transformer. Perhaps you are a therapist who helps people uncover and work through their deep-seated problems. You might be a teacher who awakens hidden talents in your students or a counsellor who rehabilitates substance abusers. Regardless of the focus your influence takes, you transform everyone you know in some way. You have a powerful, almost magnetic persona, and though you may not say much, it's impossible not to be aware of your presence. Although you reveal little about yourself, you want to know everything about everyone else. You are always eager to see what makes others tick, and delve into secrets and hidden agendas. You understand human nature and would make a good investigator or psychiatrist.

ARIES

Mar. 21 - Apr. 19

You're in the mood to be thankful because financial pressure has been lifted. Visiting a relative has helped you. Your love relationship again is alive. It certainly has been a week of change. So now quit testing things to their breaking point. Let it all go!

TAURUS

Apr. 20 - May 20

Focus on collecting, organizing, obtaining a firm foothold. There is an older woman by your side. She is a valuable ally. It's a lousy low in relationships but beautiful luck with money. Conflicts always seem to arise in the evening. You have blurred out something secret.

GEMINI

May 21 - Jun. 20

So you have felt the sweet "sting" of love! Thank the good Lord somebody can oppose you. Cycle is high, events transpire in your favor, wear your yellow. You'll shine at a social affair. Aquarius figure is prominent. You've always taken plenty and gave little in return. Pay up time.

CANCER

What has been holding you back in voicing your opinion will no longer be a serious factor. Focus on movement, confidence, stability. "Alliance" with Scorpio proves to be significant. All the messages are clear; rest, lie low today. You need peace, privacy, to find the true view of the situation.

LEO

What you wished for is no illusion. Emphasis on popularity, speculation, fulfillment, friendship, finances. A very stressful week, niggly detail and work. On the bright side, the thrill of love, laughing, dreaming of wonderful things. Stand by your previous ideas with diplomacy, patience, and love.

VIRGO

Aug. 23 - Sept. 22

Money, income, are very important at this time, with Christmas the height of the problem. It'll all clear off into a quiet roar. Remember to rest to keep your health up. Re-alignment of priorities featured. You were correct to sever a relationship that took all and gave nothing.

LIBRA

Sept. 23 - Oct. 23

Look behind the scene, Libra. You are on the brink of a discovery that will shock you into space. You are spiritual and sometimes your own worst critic. You feel moody, sentimental, romantic. It has been a confusing week even for the stout heart of Libra. Stand tall.

SCORPIO

Oct. 24 - Nov. 22

Your "sensors" are right in tune. You have guessed all along what was what. You have to face problems with all the tenacity of a bull. You'd do Taurus proud. March ahead and let them see the true Scorpio in action. It was a "tawdry" romance anyway. A close associate is nearby.

SAGITTARIUS

Nov. 22 - Dec. 21

Wouldn't it be nice if a long-standing obligation was finished? There are so many people who play an important role in your life. Maybe you'll have an exciting meeting this weekend. Strive for realism, honesty, even true love would be a change of pace. Have a nice time.

CAPRICORN

Work goes well. What is the true cost of happiness? There are strong romantic elements building this week. You're always having conflicts with authority, tradition, and work, or the "haves" and the "have nots". You believe that the individual is more important than society and need personal rights and freedoms.

This has been a tough, jumbled week for you. The crisis had secret fears but the disagreement is over, all is back in place again. You hit love in a head-on mature way, equals, netting exciting results. "Come hither, my little chick-a-dee!" Remain cautious now that the dye is cast.

PISCES

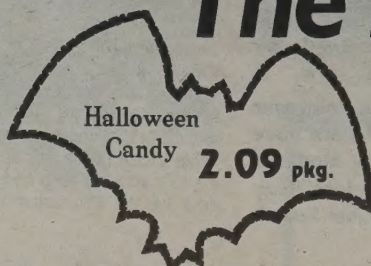

Feb. 20 - Mar. 20

It's hard to know at times where you stand, as unexpected urges surge up in you, unexpected events clamour into your life. Be patient. Aim for the top, let work, health and children be your first concern. You can change anything, liberate, awake awareness, peace and quietness, open up hidden and unknown places in the subconscious mind.
